Brick floor in 6. building. It is The bricks are not aligned with the walls, they have a slightly different axis, that is why we assumed the floor was earlier. Also, the brick floor is truncated by the cut for the internal N-S running wall [4118]. Also truncated by the cut for E-W running drain, but it is not clear whether it is the earlier or latest drain run truncated it, the relationship has been destroyed.
